

4-18-08

Dear Friends,

Kogi State is having a fuel strike and the cyber café is down so I'm sending this message via a call to my sister, Jo.

A quick note to you all about a major "thank you" to the Lord.

Last night we had a prayer meeting here and one man had a vision that one of our church leaders was going to be buried because of snake bites. So we prayed and prayed against that happening. Well, this morning when I was shifting some boxes around, a big black snake came out from one of the boxes and I was able to kill it, take it out and throw it away. I truly believe that God was the one who gave that vision to give us a chance to pray against that snake.

The other thing is that we've had a very successful wheelchair screening. We've got 37 people lined up for wheelchairs. Everything is going very well. We're getting ready to have the Wenatchee Team come out.

Please be patient. There no way I can get news to you all other than by phone.

All is well and God is in control.

Phyllis Sortor
Nigeria
April 18, 2009